

Students' Organization

Students at the CFR have their own organisation called the Centre for Foreign Relations Students' Organization (CEFRESO) to which all students are members. All students' affairs and communications are channelled through this organ. As stipulated in the Constitution of the CEFRESO and the Students' Welfare Policy and Operational Procedures of 2019, among the major objectives of the organization is to protect and promote students' interests in all aspects of their lives during their tenure at the Centre, and to provide for proper communication between the Centre's authorities and students while maintaining harmonious relations between students, academic and non-academic members of staff.
